1 TREE PLANTED

We love trees, and deeply appreciate the vital role they play in supporting all life on our planet. Therefore not only is our packaging plastic free, but we also plant a tree for every bottle purchased. In partnership with the Tree-Nation, an organisation that employs and engages local communities, we are restoring natural landscapes destroyed by deforestation. This enables some people to earn an income and support their families while restoring forests and reducing the negative effects of their destruction.

PERSONALIZATION

Labelling methods Individual production

Labelling of finished products

Personalised products, thanks to the option of including a mark, logo or promotional slogan is one of the few forms of advertising that strengthens the power of a brand. We offer marking of finished products based on a graphic design, which is either created by us or provided by the client.

Personalised box, bottle and label / bottles without Root7 logo

A brand is a name, a term, a sign, a symbol or a combination of colours, and its purpose is to make you stand out in the market. Our aim is to support brands in building their individual style, which is why we produce the bottles individually and according to client specifications. As a result, the end products only have the client's logo and an individual paper band while retaining the guarantee and the key message that the brand supports the reforestation of endangered areas. In this option, the products do not carry the Root7 logo.

Customised graphics on the bottle

Brand power is strong awareness of the brand, its colours and its logo.

These values are key in attracting the customers and keeping them interested. Our clients are given the option to create a 100% own-brand design. By choosing the right colour or graphics on the bottle, engraving the logotype and placing a dedicated paper band, we give you the opportunity to create a product that emphasises the brand value.

Engraving

Laser engraving precisely burns a design or text into a material, creating a durable and elegant effect without the use of paint or ink. This ensures your logo will retain its appearance for years to come.

UV printing

UV printing is a modern printing method in which the ink is cured with UV light, making it durable, abrasion-resistant, and producing very vivid colors. This technology allows for printing directly onto hard and irregular surfaces, making it ideal for labeling Root7 products.

360° print

360° printing allows you to fully utilize the surface of the cup or bottle, creating a striking graphic visible from every angle. It's a modern and eye-catching way to highlight your logo or design. Furthermore, the print is durable and maintains its excellent appearance for a long time.

B2B COOPERATION

Advertising Agencies

The story of your customer and their employees is of paramount importance, which is why you can personalise our thermal drinkware in any way you like.
